RE: New Course Proposal

Attached is a request for a new course NUR 101 to be offered for incoming pre-nursing freshmen in the fall semester. We have taught the course for two semesters as a pilot and the response has been favorable and enrollment has been high – average of 30 students per section.

Courses of this nature are common across college campuses, and in particular in nursing programs. In addition to the typical freshmen studies topics, we are including significant content relevant to choosing nursing as a discipline. We have found that students are being admitted to the professional level of nursing courses without a clear understanding of the profession or how they might fit. When students elect to withdraw at that point, the spaces are lost to other qualified students. With some directed exploration during the freshmen year, we have seen students take ownership of their decision to pursue nursing or change majors.
Jim, here is the updated NUR 101 syllabus.

Joanne, this was approved with these changes. The committee wanted to make sure the SA website you list has the plagiarism policy. Also, we thought it should be made clearer whether this takes the place of UK101 or not (we were told it would if the students elect to take this one, this is not mandatory, so this should be clear.)

thanks

ro conigliaro

Dr. Conigliaro – I’ve attached an updated syllabus addressing the policies and the points assigned to the graded components of the class for NUR 101. If you need further clarification, feel free to contact Dr. Burkhart or me.

1 Courses are typically made effective for the semester following approval. No course will be made effective until all approvals are received.
2 The chair of the cross-listing department must sign off on the Signature Routing Log.
3 In general, undergraduate courses are developed on the principle that one semester hour of credit represents one hour of classroom meeting per week for a semester, exclusive of any laboratory meeting. Laboratory meeting, generally, represents at least two hours per week for a semester for one credit hour. (from SR 5.2.1)
4 You must also submit the Distance Learning Form in order for the proposed course to be considered for DL delivery.

Course Objectives:
This course is designed to introduce first-year students to the intellectual life of the University and to help them:

1. Articulate the purpose and nature of a college education at a research university.
2. Articulate UK’s expectations of its students.
3. Explore Nursing as both an educational option and a profession.
4. Develop skills for achieving academic success such as study strategies and library research skills.
5. Increase awareness and use of campus resources.
6. Reflect on personal and social issues that first-year students often face in a collegiate environment.
7. Involve students in the total life of the University of Kentucky.
8. Form beneficial relationships with students, faculty and staff.

Course requirements:

1. Attend ALL classes. Attending class is an important part of succeeding in any course. Excused absences are defined in Student Rights and Responsibilities, which can be found online at www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/code. Please contact the instructor by phone or email prior to class if you are unable to attend. The following are acceptable reasons for excused absences: serious illness, illness or death of family member, University-related trips, major religious holidays. You may be asked to provide documentation.
2. Class participation is critical to the success of student and it adds to the success of the course. Participation includes being prepared for class, engaging in class discussions and activities and assuming responsibility for your own learning and contributing to the learning of others.
3. Complete and submit all assignments by designated dates.
4. Academic honesty is fundamental to the activities and principles of any university, and there are serious consequences for plagiarism and cheating. Please familiarize yourself with the portion of UK’s student code that addresses academic offenses, beginning with section 6.3.0 found at http://www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/Code/part2.html.
5. Students with Special Needs: Any student with a disability who is taking this course and needs classroom accommodations should contact the Disability Resource Center, 257-2754, room 2 Alumni Gym, or email Mr. Jake Karnes at jkarnes@uky.edu. You must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center in order to receive any accommodations.
Learning Outcomes:
Students will be able to:
1. Demonstrate academic skills necessary for success
2. Identify main characters in nursing history
3. Describe their reasons for selecting nursing
4. Use APEX for course planning and tracking
5. Identify major campus resources for social and academic engagement

Grading scale: Course is pass/fail – 80% required to pass

Assignments will include written papers and classroom presentations on various topics related to nursing and college life. Late assignments will be accepted with a penalty of 5% per day deduction, unless there is an emergency situation. See policy above for excused absences.
